Buster Simpson presented his concept proposals and answered committee questions. The proposals were discussed and positively received. There was strong support for Phase One and Two of the Orange Lining (OL) proposal. The following comments were made:

- Since text is a critical element of the OL project, special consideration should be given to the font or typeface used to execute both phases of the project.
- OL Budget should account for professional subcontractors (writers and font designer)
- Consider how the proposals might inform each other (ie. water as subject matter for OL)

With regard to the Water Brigade proposal – the committee expressed interest in the portions of the proposal that could be implemented during the course of the project. Comments included:

- Provision Foresight component of the proposal may need to be more specific to be well understood
- Strong preference for water feature (over cistern)

Michelle Traver presented the draft budget assignments for the art program and discussion ensued. It was summarily approved pending further discussion during the next meeting. The meeting was adjourned at 5:00pm.
